Did you know that TEwT in a few months' time will be commencing its twenty-second year of operation? In this period, TEwT has carved out a very specific research niche in the area of technology use in TESOL (Teaching English To Speakers of Other Languages). TEwT is therefore unique as a journal in that it focuses mainly on technologically innovative ways of teaching ESOL as opposed to foreign languages generically. Moreover, TEwT is also a very active internationalised journal. In the last five years alone, for instance, TEwT has published 135 papers (or approximately 2500 pages) by academics working in well-known Universities/higher-education Colleges from 27 countries (i.e. South Korea, Japan, Poland, Hungary, Iran, Indonesia, Malaysia, Saudi Arabia, Portugal, Cyprus, Thailand, Vietnam, Spain, Turkey, Ecuador, Bahrain, China, Ukraine, Australia, Jordan, Lebanon, USA, India, UK, Slovakia, Oman, New Zealand).

However, TEwT also has a very impressive and dedicated international Board of Reviewers — and it is precisely this unstinting community support over the years that has enabled TEwT to disseminate so much outstanding research worldwide. Nonetheless, as TEwT's ranking profiles have been improving dramatically (e.g. TEwT presently has a Scopus percentile of 87 in the category of Language and Linguistics), it has been being inundated with new papers to review; we sometimes, for instance, receive even up to three to four new papers on a single day! This growing interest to publish in TEwT is also in part due to the niche and trendy area on which TEwT focuses. Therefore, we are currently looking for additional experienced and suitably qualified reviewers, and a call has been placed on our webpage—so feel free to apply!

The links below, which are sorted according to Volumes and Issues for the last five years, indicate the mammoth amount of work that has been undertaken by our dedicated reviewer team. So, thank you to our reviewers!
